A Traffic Accident

The weather was bad and rained heavily this morning. When I went to school, I saw an accident. A big school bus hit a white private car in front of a traffic light.

After a big bang, a lot of students cried and shouted. A man called 999 at once. After ten minutes, an ambulance arrived and helped the wounded children. I was so unhappy and thought about the children all day. If the drivers do not drive too fast, I think some accidents will not happen.
